Annie Han - Baseball BBQ Forkballers
Play by Play Announcer Extraordinaire!

Puget Sound Baseball BBQ Forkballers Broadcast "Live" Every MSBL WS Game
By Tom Prendergast

Technology has certainly allowed us to do some impressive things over the years at the MSBL WS. But without a doubt, one of the coolest things I've seen was yesterday at the stadium. Sitting behind home plate, under an umbrella, was Annie Han. She was keeping score of the game (Forkballers vs Houston) while live streaming it and providing the play by play of the game. She was a one man production team and she was absolutely amazing! Annie's partner is Forkballer's pitcher, Ryan Patrick. She told me she's been doing the play by play of all the teams games for the last 4 years, over a You Tube subscription channel. In 2019, when they began dating, Annie thought it would be a neat idea to live stream the games so Ryan's mom could watch him play. In fact, both of their parents are always tuning in. Annie is from the Seattle area and is a big Mariners fan and really enjoys listening to the games on the radio. She told me that listening to the Mariner games was one of her favorite things to do because the announcers were so good and entertaining. She's become a big baseball fan and she (continued on page 2)

Close Games Keep Players in the Game

45+ Cactus Division Baseball BBQ Forkballers batter, Joe Haller comes through with a big rbi single during his teams game against the Houston Cyclones at Tempe Diablo Stadium.

Competitive Games On the Field Make A Difference To The Players
National Office Prioritizes Teams And Divisions In Creating the WS Schedules
By Tom Prendergast

Nobody's happy with a blowout game! Not the winners, the losers or even the umpires who are getting paid to be there. The very best games are the ones which are close and both sides have a chance to win. In these games, every guy on the team is on the top of the dugout steps cheering on their teammates. And who doesn't want to be at the plate with the game on the line, two outs and the bases loaded, down by a run! Or the relief pitcher coming into the game to record that one, last - elusive out. These are the situations in which memories are made. Just about every day during the MSBL World Series tournament, somebody's going to be the hero, or maybe even the goat. No matter the outcome, players in our games shake it off and return the next day. Because after all, this tournament is a competition we all look forward to all year. Being on the field with your buddies, playing against those guys from another state is a welcome challenge. These moments are special and at times, take on an added, sometimes surreal feeling. And the older we get, the more we appreciate the moment. Our 45 and older players can look forward to another 20 years of attending the WS. That's an exciting future! The rest of us are just enjoying being in the game, now.

is incredibly serious about her broadcasts. She uses two cell phones during the game, one for the live stream video broadcast and the other to keep score of the game, in real time - which is visible on the screen. As Annie describes the game, she's simultaneously keeping score of the game. She told me that she utilizes an app (Sideline HD overlay), which allows her to put balls and strikes, outs and runs scored on the screen during the game. Who even knew this was possible! Annie told me she has around 200 subscriber's and anywhere from 70 - 120 will tune in every game. And Annie is a one man show. Our WS games are typically 3 hours long and she's live the entire time. When I asked her why she does this, she told me it was fun and exciting to provide this service to everybody who can't attend the games. This is a lot of work but she told me it's a labor of love and that she really enjoys watching Ryan play (along with the rest of the Forkballers). Ryan told me that not only does Annie do this for every game, she also will make cookies and bring them for the players. Holy Cow! She's a cross between Vince Scully and Mary Poppins. In real life, Annie and Ryan have a real estate business, which they operate together.
